Remember the gray horse in front.

A Spartan son is the Rev. John Knox Tibbitts of Concord, N. H. His father, Dudley Tibbitts of Troy, N. Y., being asked with a desire to see the son, made the trip to Concord, and, entering a hotel, ordered dinner for two, with it a bottle of wine. When the Rev. John Tibbitts came into the dining room to join his father he perceived the wine, and summing the head waiter, asked him what he meant by serving guests with intoxicating drinks, in violation of the prohibitory law of New Hampshire. It appears that he did not order the removal of the offending bottle, but permitted his father to refresh himself after his journey with the claret. But after dinner the Rev. John stood at the head office to give the authorities there a piece of his mind. The next day he wrote a letter to his honor the mayor, telling him about the bottle. He thought that possibly there might be in the law a loophole which he had overlooked. He learned that, while the sale of domestic claret to guests at hotels is permitted in New Hampshire, the statute absolutely prohibits the sale of French claret. Thereupon he made a formal complaint, and the "wine clerk" of the Concord hotel is now under bonds awaiting the verdict of the grand jury. The man who took these steps is not a prohibitionist; indeed, he regards the law as an absurdity, but feels it his duty as a preacher and a citizen to see that laws are enforced, even at the great inconvenience of Tibbitts, senior, who must make another journey to Concord to testify against his host who sold him the claret.

Women love a clear healthy complexion. Pure blood makes it. Burdock Blood Purifier makes pure blood.

A South Carolina paper remarks: "They do say a South Carolina legislator can cut more pinheads than anybody else." It is well nigh incredible! The select men of a state, the inhabitants whose feet are forbidden by law expressly from coming about their persons pistols "twenty inches long and weighing eight pounds," mauling the home-ly "pinhead" in the legislative halls, raising and hoisting in Massachusetts, pistols and bladders in South Carolina! What a difference a few degrees in latitude make in things, especially in names. "Pinheads" are peanuts.

SUIT ON A CONTRACT

Action Pagan Yesterday by G. H. Hirschfeld Against W. C. Greene

Suit was begun in the district court yesterday by G. H. Hirschfeld against W. C. Greene to recover $1,000 on an agreement. On November 14, 1899, the plaintiff was the owner of 2000 shares of Colaba Grande stock. It was about that time that the parties to the famous litigation which had been going on for two years had come to the terms of a compromise, one of which was that all the stock of the Colaba Grande should be taken up by Mr. Greene and his associates at a fixed price, or else that stock of the Greene Consolidated should be given in exchange for it. The plaintiff alleges that there was a written agreement between him and the defendant, by which he could elect to sell his stock to the defendant for $2 a share, or else take 21 a share for it and its par value in Greene's Consolidated. In January of the following year the plaintiff exercised his option and offered the stock to the defendant at $2 a share. It was not taken, and though the offer was repeated the defendant refused to take it, and in length the plaintiff sold it at $2.50 a share. The sale was made to other parties, and now action is begun to recover the other 20 cents a share, according to the agreement.

Colaba Grande preferred to exchange for the Greene stock dollar for dollar, and some of this stock was afterward sold for as much as $22 a share. It is not so much now, but it is a great deal more than the most sanguine stockholders imagined two years ago that it would ever be.

CHOLERA INFANTUM.

This has long been regarded as one of the most dangerous and fatal diseases to which infants are subject. It can be cured, however, when properly treated. All that is necessary is to give Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and castor oil, as directed with each bottle, and a cure is certain. For sale by Elvey & Russell, druggists.

Of the many benefits for which Egypt will owe gratitude to England for generations and for centuries the building of the great dam across the Nile will rank as one of the most important. One of the largest and costliest dams now in construction anywhere on the globe one is in Africa and two are in America. The new Croton Valley dam for New York's water supply and the Nashua River dam for Boston's water supply are now rising steadily. Each of the two will cost millions of dollars and will be a masterpiece of engineering.

Ten thousand denizens gnawing away at each other's ankles is much more than the picture of hellish pain. Yet there is a cure. Doan's Ointment never fails.
